Methods:*Association

Association examinations compare the physical and class characteristics of evidence items. An association conclusion is reached if the observable or measurable physical dimensions and design features of two items are in agreement, or are "physically consistent." If these dimensions and features are clearly different, an elimination conclusion is reached. If there is a lack of observable design features or measurable dimensions, the result is inconclusive.

Bullet Examination

Two bullets, either two evidence items or one evidence item and one bullet test fired in the Laboratory, undergo two stages of comparison. First, the bullets are examined to determine and compare their class characteristics. The class characteristics of fired bullets include diameter, number of land and groove impressions, direction of twist, and the widths of the land and groove impressions. If the class characteristics of the two bullets are not clearly different, the examination moves to a second stage using comparative microscopy.

A microscopic comparison examination consists of a search of the striated marks present on two bullets to determine if patterns of similarity exist. At the completion of these comparisons, one of the following three opinions is issued:

1) Exclusion (Elimination)

If two bullets have different class characteristics, an Exclusion opinion is rendered.

Exclusion opinions based on general differences are not required to be verified. However, an exclusion opinion based on a minor difference in a measured class characteristic cannot be reported unless a second qualified firearms/toolmarks Examiner has examined the items in question and reached the same conclusion.

2) Identification

If the following conditions are met during the comparison of microscopic marks, an opinion of Identification is rendered:

- a) The degree of similarity is greater than the Examiner has ever observed in previous evaluations of bullets known to have been fired from different barrels.
- b) The degree of similarity is equivalent to that normally observed in bullets known to have been fired from the same barrel.

When these conditions are met the likelihood another tool (firearm) could have produced the same mark is so remote as to be considered a practical impossibility. An Identification opinion cannot be reported unless a second qualified firearms/toolmarks Examiner has examined the items in question and reached the same conclusion.

3) Inconclusive (No Conclusion)

If the conditions required for an Exclusion or Identification are not observed, an opinion of Inconclusive is rendered. A failure to meet the conditions for an Exclusion or Identification could be the result of limited microscopic marks of value, a lack of any observed microscopic similarity, or microscopic similarity that is present but too limited to meet the criteria for Identification.

Cartridge/Shotshell Case

Two cartridge cases, either two evidence items or one evidence item and one cartridge case test fired in the Laboratory, undergo two stages of comparison. First, the cartridge cases are examined to determine and compare their class characteristics. The class characteristics of fired cartridge cases include caliber, shape of firing pin impression, shape and orientation of breech face marks, and relative locations of extractor and ejector marks. If the class characteristics of the two cartridge cases are not clearly different, the examination moves to a second stage using light and/or virtual comparison microscopy.

A microscopic comparison examination consists of a search of the impressed and striated toolmarks present on two cartridge cases to determine if patterns of similarity exist. At the completion of these examinations, one of the following three opinions is issued:

1) Exclusion (Elimination)

If two cartridge cases have clearly different class characteristics, an Exclusion opinion is rendered.

Exclusion opinions based on general differences are not required to be verified. However, an exclusion opinion based on a minor difference in a measured class characteristic cannot be reported unless a second qualified firearms/toolmarks Examiner has examined the items in question and reached the same conclusion.

2) Identification

If the following conditions are met during the comparison of microscopic marks, an opinion of Identification is rendered:

- a) The degree of similarity is greater than the Examiner has ever observed in previous evaluations of cartridge cases known to have been fired in different firearms.
- b) The degree of similarity is equivalent to that normally observed in cartridge cases known to have been fired in the same firearm.

When these conditions are met the likelihood another tool (firearm) could have produced the same mark is so remote as to be considered a practical impossibility. An Identification opinion cannot be reported unless a second qualified firearms/toolmarks examiner has examined the items in question and reached the same conclusion.

3) Inconclusive (No Conclusion)

If the conditions required for an Exclusion or Identification are not observed, one of two types of inconclusive results can be reported. An opinion of No Conclusion is rendered if the impressed and/or striated toolmarks present in either or both of the specimens are of poor quality, have limited microscopic marks of value, lack any observed microscopic similarity, or microscopic similarity that is present but too limited to meet the criteria for Identification. An opinion of Nothing Found to Indicate is rendered if the microscopic marks of value on both specimens are of good quality but lack correspondence in the impressed and/or striated marks.

Limitations:

Association

Association examinations are used to determine if two items are from a restricted group source and cannot be used to determine whether two items are from a unique source.

Bullet Examination

Firearms/Toolmark Identification is an empirical science that relies on objective measurements and a subjective comparison of microscopic marks of value.

Due to random changes in barrels such as wear, corrosion and lead accumulation, bullets fired from the same barrel are sometimes not identifiable as such. Additionally, some barrel manufacturing methods routinely produce barrels that leave limited microscopic marks of value on fired bullets. Damaged, corroded or fragmented bullets may be of little or no value for comparison purposes.

Cartridge/Shotshell Cases

Firearms/Toolmark Identification is an empirical science that relies on objective measurements and a subjective comparison of microscopic marks of value.

Due to possible changes in firearm operating surfaces from wear, corrosion, and ordinary fouling and differences in ammunition design and construction, cartridge cases fired in the same firearm are sometimes not identifiable as such. Additionally, some firearm manufacturing methods routinely produce working surfaces that leave limited microscopic marks of value on fired cartridge cases.

Virtual comparison microscopy (VCM) is restricted to the surface that the three-dimensional toolmark topographical instrument is capable of measuring to produce a digital reproduction. Additionally, individual characteristics may be present on the evidentiary item(s) and may not be reproduced during a scan. This may be due to interference from lacquer/sealant, environmental damage, debris, or measuring limits for an instrument. Furthermore, physical characteristics that are not measurable, such as the metallic qualities of an item, may not be available for evaluation.
